Our annual meeting, held in early autumn, has gained recognition as an ideal chance to exchange ideas and experiences working within the Polish LPG market. By working together, we can make progress in revolutionizing the petroleum industry.

Conference subjects

This year's conference subjects were discussed with Polish LPG market participants and are based on their suggestions and needs. They include:

- New excise duty regulations in Poland and their execution. Speakers include DLA Piper tax advisors.
- Legal basis for activities on the Polish fuel market such as obligatory fuel and LPG stocks. Talks will be on planned and suggested changes in current laws and regulations. Speakers include Pawel Bielski, Polski Gaz and DLA Piper lawyers.
- Statistics of the 2009 Polish LPG including price evolution and market turning points. Discussion will center on the strategic and operational issues of the Polish LPG market.
- The future of the Polish LPG market and changes in the coming years, including expected market structures and changes in market characteristics. Speakers are experienced market participants, wholesale traders and importers and market analysts.
- How new technical regulations regarding retail LPG sales (fuel stations) affect the market, the current legal situation and expected changes. Speakers include Marcin Szponder of the Polish Organization of Oil Industry and Trade.
